SPRING SIGNS NUMEROUS ON WEST COAST

VANCOUVER, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Snowdrifts and floods weren't the only signs of spring reported yesterday in British Columbia.

In suburban North Burnaby residents were agog at the sight of three tulips they said were more than an inch above ground.

A resident of Marine Island, one of the Gulf Islands between Vancouver and Victoria, reports the first snowdrops "pushing their white heads through the thick, wet snow to get some warmth from the bright sun."

City May Get
Oil Building

Edmonton may get a "Petroleum Building" during the coming year.

E. I. Clarke and associates are to erect an office building at an approximate cost of $700,000.

While it would have sufficient space to accommodate all companies which might locate here for some time to come, it is not yet known whether it will be specifically designated for this purpose or simply be general office space for rental.

Whitney Phoenix of Canada Ltd. have announced they plan to construct a 15-story oil centre building in Calgary as soon as materials become available.

COMPANIES ANXIOUS
Oil companies are reported to be anxious to locate headquarters in Edmonton but are unable to do so through lack of suitable space.

The five-story building to be constructed by the E. I. Clarke Inc. will be located on 102 street close to the Hudson's Bay Company store.

PLANS BEING MADE
Plans for the new building are expected to be completed by the first of next month.

Don McKay, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said the man on the street was somewhat over the top in his concern for something to be done for the oil companies.

"It isn't as though the oil companies had to get in right now," he said. "Granted they are willing to expand, and would like extra space, it is a pessimistic view to say they must move to Edmonton immediately."

Past of Hungarian Colorful and Picturesque

John Gunther describes Matyas Rakosi, boss of Hungary and one of the top half dozen international Communists.—EDITOR.

Man Who Rules Hungary
This man is in a way the most interesting personality I met all summer. His name is Matyas Rakosi, he is the Deputy Prime Minister and undisputed boss of Hungary, and he has a past even more colorful and politically picturesque than his present.

Never—this should be a maxim in the rule books—underestimate your adversary. So when I say that Mr. Rakosi has a brilliant wit and is one of the most efficient and disaboliably subtle as well as tough minded men I ever met, I am not kidding. In a sense, I think I am kidding. In a sense, I think I am kidding.

Later he blundered a copy of an American news magazine on his desk. He laughed. "You can buy here all the papers that tell of the horrors of the Iron Curtain."

Rakosi is probably the only Hungarian man being who learned the Italian language in Siberia, of all places, and who was once exchanging Italian for a mass of old battle flags. Also he is one of the few people alive, I imagine, who has had talks with both Lenin and Mr. Truman.

He has several other distinctions. Mr. Rakosi is not merely a Hungarian Communist; he is the one of the bad dozen most important international Communists.

Some Gentle Sarcasm
One of Mr. Rakosi's first remarks to me in mild irony was, "As you see, we live peacefully behind the Iron Curtain, besieged only by American and British journalists."

Operetta Is Big Success At Garneau

By HUGH DEMPSEY

In a setting of a fairy-like garden by an enchanted forest, youthful beauty of the Garneau Drama Club Friday presented a striking performance of the operetta, Cobler of Fairland.

Under the direction of Miss M. Johnson, ATCM, Garneau drama and music teachers, the students presented the three-act operetta before an audience of over 100 persons in the Garneau auditorium.

The operetta, based on a famous fairy tale, tells the story of a queen who invites only 12 of the 13 fairies from the enchanted forest to attend the prince's party. Vengefulness, the neglected fairy, plots with her brother, the cobler, to hire an old witch to cast a sleeping spell on the royal household.

The hero of the play, Machiavelli, the cat, acts as a friend of the villain and finally succeeds to foil their plan. The villain repents and the show closed on a note of blissful harmony.

The operetta which showed months of hard work and practice, presented a fine display of Garneau talent. After the final curtain, the applause brought the company back for a repeat of the final song.

Undergrads Protest Rumored Fee Boost

Protest against a rumored increase in fees at the University of Alberta, was made by the Education Undergrads Society Friday.

Resolutions were passed requesting the Alberta government to absorb increased costs of operation of the university, and plan for the dominion government with the help of the dominion government.

It was felt higher fees would make it increasingly difficult for high-caliber students to attend university, and the provincial government should have ample funds with which to support it.

It was agreed ability, rather than economic status, should be a vital factor in being eligible for a university education, and students should not be barred for lack of funds.

A plan such as the present DVA scheme was suggested, whereby the dominion government could assist in financing students.

Copies of the resolutions will be forwarded to the president and board of governors of the U of A, executive council of the Students' Union, and the government of the province of Alberta.

Some 200 members were present at the meeting, John Bracco, president of the Society, was chairman.

$150,000 Needed For Cancer Work

Large Program Planned To Educate Alberta Folk

Alberta division of Canadian Cancer Society will need $150,000 to continue the fight against cancer in the province next year, A. W. Shackelford of Lethbridge, declared today at closing session of the division's annual meeting.

Mr. Shackelford is the president of the Alberta group. "Our carefully budgeted program," he said, "indicates that this amount is the minimum needed to increase the hearing of the cancer problem."

The new president listed the following as uses for funds: 1946 research into cancer's causes and cures, sponsoring the National Cancer Institute of Canada, the National Tumor Registry, and 45 research projects in the province. The university, including University of Alberta, public education and service to cancer patients.

IMPORTANCE SHOWN
Importance of the educational program was especially stressed by Mr. Shackelford. He claimed that until the final answer to the cancer problem is solved through research, educating people to signs and dangers of cancer is very important.

He said it would help to have up to one-third of the 15,000 Canadians who die each year.

KEYSTONE
R. N. Talbot, executive secretary of the Alberta division, pointed out that the rising rate of cure is largely the result of public education, which with research and service forms the keystone of the society's work.

"People are beginning to recognize cancer," he said, "but the disease is still in the early and curable stage, he said."

Junior Police Under Fire By Mayor

"I object vigorously to the introduction of a Junior Police in Edmonton, to any scheme that would make some boys spies on other boys."

This statement was made by Mayor Harry Ainlay Friday night at the Baden-Powell anniversary dinner sponsored by the Edmonton district Council of the Boy Scouts Association.

Mayor Ainlay was objecting to the proposal to create a Junior Police force in the city to curb juvenile delinquency.

PRaises Work
Congratulating the Boy Scout movement for its excellent work, Mayor Ainlay said the organization's work was not nearly done.

There were thousands of boys and girls that could be helped by the organization, children most in need of the organization's services.

Until there had been reached and brought within the scope of the movement, officials should not consider their task accomplished, Mayor Ainlay stated.

J. C. Nutteridge, representing the Cosmopolitan Club, promised that the club would be ready for occupancy this year. This organization sponsors Scout activities in the city.

PROMISE SUPPORT
Les. Irwin, president of the Rotary Club, spoke and promised continued support.

Meritorious service medals were presented to Col. Herbert Darling and Gordon Taylor, MLA for Drumheller.

Long service medals were presented to Scout Master Art Tunsall and George Audley.

AN IMPASSIONED story of a bold love is "The Walls of Jericho" which opens at the Empress theatre Monday. Twentieth-Century Fox screen version of the widely-acclaimed best seller by Paul I. Wellman stars Cornelia Wilde, Linda Darnell and Kirk Douglas.

Involved Film Love Story Gives Cupid a Tough Job

At best, love can be very confusing. But when it comes to keeping track of romantic situations as complex as that in "The Walls of Jericho," cupid himself could have with a compass.

Twentieth-Century Fox screen version of Paul Wellman's best seller, "The Walls of Jericho" opens at the Empress theatre Monday, starring Linda Darnell, Cornelia Wilde, Kirk Douglas, Anne Baxter and Ann Dvorak.

A probing and provocative story set against the background of color and violence of the High Plains country as it emerged from the raw frontier days into the early 1900s, the film provides its top stars with their most challenging roles to date.

"The Walls of Jericho" unfolds the dramatic tale of a bitter battle for power between two men, and of a girl's yearning for a love which looks, not in the oppressive atmosphere of a town which couldn't hold it.

It is a story of passionate conflict incited by a easily calculating and beautiful woman who would let nothing stand in the way of her consuming ambition.

Cornelia Wilde is seen as David Connor, the young country attorney who battles a political machine and finds himself involved in a scandal which almost wrecks him.

Linda Darnell follows her memorable performance in "Forever Amber" with her portrayal of the scheming and ambitious Algeria who, in the name of love, almost succeeds in wrecking the lives of three other people.

As Julia, Ann Baxter is forced to pit her love for Dave against backstreet gossip of a mid-west town.

Kirk Douglas appears as Tucker, a young publisher who, taken in by Algeria's devious ways, is plunged into a bitter battle against his best friend. Ann Dvorak appears as

Lacombe Collects Nearly Full Levy

LACOMBE, Feb. 10. — Annual meeting with a good turnout of ratepayers was held in the Church hall Monday evening, preceded by a banquet and musical program sponsored by Lacombe Board of Trade. C. D. Marble was in the chair, with C. B. Hyndman as secretary.

Reports on the different phases of the town business were given by Mayor T. Wilkes and the various members of the council.

Receipts throughout the past year were just under $100,000 of which $84,000.00 was taxes. This amount of taxes collected was 95% of the total levied.

During the year over $100,000 was spent on new sidewalks. There were also provided more street lights, sewer connections, catch basins and new culverts.

Building permits for the year amounted to $420,000.00. A new wing has been built on the hospital, many fine new residences have been erected and the new government building is well on the way to completion.

It was brought out that there is a minimum of outstanding debt and a good surplus on hand.

A WOODWARD SPECIAL An Explanation of a Woodward Policy Designed for Your Protection and Assistance

Woodward's prides themselves on their policy of truthful, accurate and conservative advertising. We believe that the use of phrases such as "Tremendous Savings," "Dramatically Reduced," "Gigantic Sale," "Extra Special Value," can be confusing to our customers, when these phrases are scattered through an advertisement indiscriminately, with no regard to facts or actual relationship to the amount of savings involved. Many years ago, it was decided that any buyer who had made an outstanding purchase or wished to actually reduce goods on hand, would be obliged to give management substantial proof that the suggested retail price was, in fact, a very substantial saving to our customers. If management was satisfied, the word "Special" could be used in conjunction with the advertising.

We suggest to our many patrons that any item bearing the word "Special" in our daily newspaper ads or on our price tickets in the store, is indeed, our guarantee of substantial savings.

John Doe Speaks on Transit Fares

Timely Survey In City Finds Variety Of Opinion

By Lloyd Jenkins

Opinion on whether the general taxpayer or the transit system patron should pay the system's deficit is far from unanimous, according to a survey made by The Bulletin.

"Those using the system—and I use it as well as being a taxpayer—should pay" was the conclusion of Arthur Walker, secretary of the Municipal District of Strathcona.

It should be partly paid by taxes and partly by the users, opined David Roberts, secretary of the Municipal District of Strathcona.

The civic committee of the Community League unanimously decided it should be made up through general taxation.

Here are representative opinions from three organizations dealing with civic affairs, all expressed in different viewpoints. This is a different view-point.

While in the nature of things it was to be expected that the user of the transit system would oppose increased fares and the automobile owner, usually the heavier taxpayer, would oppose increase in taxation, a surprising number of persons owning motor cars were opposed to higher transit fares.

He hurts the person who can afford it most," said Henry Singer, clothing store proprietor, 1038 101 street. "If the city would pick up all the passengers it leaves stranded on the streets it could probably make a profit," he added grudgingly.

R. R. Brooks, proprietor of a bicycle store at 10432 Whyte avenue, said that from a selfish viewpoint he should favor higher fares because then more persons would use bicycles, in his impartial opinion was the taxpayer should bear the brunt.

HARDSHIP FOR SOME

D. C. Howell, manager of the South Edmonton branch of the Imperial bank, who rarely uses the transit system, was also convinced that increased fares would be a hardship on the working man and on lower-salaried groups who could ill afford it.

This opinion was shared by a surprisingly large number of automobile owners. But it was by no means unanimous.

Andy Easton, 1147 127 street, employee of an insurance syndicate, was emphatic that higher fares was the better answer. "I have to pay a nickel every time I park. This does not take into account initial cost of the car, depreciation, gasoline, licenses, etc. Eight cents for a street car fare is cheap service comparatively. Because I need a car in my business, why should I have to pay additional taxes for street car users?"

E. Enders, although he uses the transit system exclusively and is a taxpayer as well, thinks street car patrons should bear the extra financial load rather than the taxpayers. Mr. Enders, 1862 University avenue operates a clothing store in South Edmonton.

"Wages are not going up but the cost of living is," was the way Ted Hollefstad, 1047 80 avenue, a barber, put it when stating in no uncertain terms the general tax rate should make up for the deficit.

CHANGE OVER TOO SOON

"The city changed from street cars to buses too soon," asserted Rud Mathews, retired, 1047 216 street. "The street cars were prepared to stand them and buses added to cost of operation because they can't take so many passengers."

At many varied opinions could be quoted as persons interviewed. Preceding articles have been designed to create a more enlightened opinion by exposition of the facts.

The conclusion is that people have different opinions—and are entitled to them—as the subject is where it hurts most, the purse.

Most transit system patrons use a yearly average of four tickets per day—canceling those who do not go out in the evening against those who do go home for lunch. Three tickets for 25 cents would add $30.00 to their yearly budget for transit, while seven tickets for 40 cents would increase it $35.00.

New Trial Asked In Murder Case

CALGARY, Feb. 19.—(CP)—A request for a new trial was made before the appellate division of the Alberta Supreme Court yesterday in the appeal of Stanley Donald McLaren, 23, of Toronto and convicted of the November, 1945, murder of Chinese grocer Lum Yum Wing when he appeared in district court last November and was sentenced to hang.

Edward J. McCormick, counsel for McLaren, asked for the new trial as he ended his main argument for the applicant. The appeal, which opened Wednesday, is continuing.

Mr. McCormick based his request for a new trial on the contention that the trial judge had misdirected the jury in his address and that he had also permitted inadmissible evidence to be presented.

Cattle Import Limit Sought In U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A western livestock spokesman told Senators yesterday that President Truman should immediately put a limit on imports of cattle and meat products from Canada and Argentina.

F. E. Molins of Denver, Colo., told the Senate finance committee that the equivalent of more than 1,000,000 head of cattle arrived in the United States recently just at a time of the "most drastic decline in prices of cattle that has ever occurred."

Molins pointed the reciprocal trade pact extension recently passed by the House of Representatives and asked the Senate to rein restrictions on the presidential power to cut tariffs, imposed by the last Congress.

Declare War On Margarine

MONTREAL, Feb. 19.—(CP)—A policy of retreat and no armistice in the "Battle of Margarine" was sounded Friday by the Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association as President J. R. Pelletier labelled introduction of margarine to Canada "a serious threat not only to our dairy industry but to the future welfare of the whole nation."

Mr. Pelletier, director of the Dominion Experimental Station at Ste. Anne de la Pointe, Que., addressed the annual meeting of the association, attended by more than 120 representatives from all parts of Canada.

As part of the anti-margarine campaign, the president said, dairy farmers should move for more efficient butter production so the sale price to the consumer "would be more attractive," and should insist on a different color for margarine.

Royal assent meant that Canada's parliament had completed study of possibly the most important issue of its new session less than a month after the session started and 11 days after the issue first came up. It gave nearly six weeks for the United Kingdom parliament, at the behest of the King, to confirm the terms of union between a subordinate British colony and an autonomous British dominion.

Country-Wide Theft Ring Hinted In B.C.
VANCOUVER, Feb. 19.—(C.P.P.)—Police today believed a Dominion-wide theft ring is responsible for a series of clothing store robberies here.
In the latest robbery, early Friday, thieves escaped with $2,000 worth of clothing, including 40 men's suits and 35 overcoats. Other robberies netted thousands of dollars worth of clothing, some amateur stores being practically cleaned out of stock.
There is a possibility that the loot has been shipped to prairie and eastern cities for sale.

When there's a train wreck, a highway smash-up or a disaster at sea, the general public is usually told the cause.

When the railway liver leaves the track or smashes into the rear of a standing freight we soon have an official explanation. Sometimes it's a broken rail. A brakeman may forget to line up a switch or an engineer or conductor misread the orders.

If somebody is killed in an automobile collision, there's a public inquest and blame for the accident is usually established.

But in nine cases out of 10, the cause of an airplane crash remains an official mystery to the general public.

You see the headlines in the paper. Then you read that an official investigation has begun. Sometimes the cause of the crash. But that's where the matter ends as far as the general public is concerned. Why should this be?

I asked my old friend Ken Saunders about it the other day. "A district inspector of aviation here."

"You can learn the findings of department investigations if you write to Ottawa," Ken said. "I called up the coroner and asked the procedure about requests following fatal air mishaps. He told me it has the practice to make a formal identification of victims and let the aviation authorities carry on the investigation from there."

"He said the law actually permits the usual public inquiry to determine cause of death. He added that he personally would favor 'seeing any incident following an airplane crash through to the end.'"

Why do the authorities handle air crashes in this manner? Mystery and superstition have been the enemies of human progress from the dawn of history. I think the present policy of not making public the findings of crash investigations is detrimental to the air transport business.

One of Canada's great pioneer airmen thinks the same way. He is Grant McConachie, dynamic president of Canadian Pacific Airlines. Grant once said: "I don't get any pleasure in holding back news about an airline crash. When airplanes land safely there are no headlines."

The airplane is the safest form of transportation in the world. Far fewer people are killed or injured in air crashes than in any other mode of transport. The airline business has grown up. Let's clear away the fog of mystery surrounding it.

I think civil aviation authorities at Ottawa would help a great deal by following as far as possible the same procedure in air crash probes as prevails with respect to other forms of transport. The airline business has grown up. Let's clear away the fog of mystery surrounding it.

Legislators Aim to Speed Crude Oil Export Plans

AGED LAWYER FACES COURT ON CONVERSION

Many a time during 34 years of law practice at the bar, Malcolm W. MacDonald of Edmonton had pleaded leniency for a prisoner.

Friday he heard another barrister plead leniency—this time for him.

Stumped in the stand, the 66-year-old former Alberta barrister admitted converting $1,000 of his own money to his own use.

"This is a very bad case," said the defending barrister, Gerald Amerson. "This man was admitted to the bar in 1915. He was married in 1915 and has practiced at a number of points around Calgary and Edmonton."

"Sometime before this offence"

A resolution which will permit speedier development of Alberta's oil resources was tabled in the legislature Friday by Hon. Lucien Maynard, provincial attorney general.

"Debate on the throne speech was delayed in order to give the resolution top priority."

Mr. Maynard convinced legislators they should support his resolution which would speed incorporation of pipeline companies by the federal government.

Under legislation now proposed by the federal government, companies seeking a franchise for inter-provincial pipelines of crude oil would be incorporated by a private bill.

Mr. Maynard continued it might be 1953 before a private bill could be passed by the senior parliament and that this would result in curtailment of Alberta's oil production.

Harper Prowse, Alberta Liberal leader, said he thought the federal government would act with sufficient speed to incorporate such a company before the pipe was available.

Mr. Maynard said the company concerned had been assured of enough pipe to start construction by next fall.

Mr. Maynard refused to disclose the name of the company interested in crude oil export.

When Mr. Speaker Dawson asked for a vote on the resolution government supporters voted in its favor.

"Efforts to obtain a division of the house on the question failed when only Harper Prowse and A. J. E. Lacombe (C.P., Calgary) rose to their feet after the vote."

Milk Board Hears Of Farmers' Losses

Sixty-seven per cent of farmers supplying milk to Edmonton agree exclusively in milk production and are sustaining loss on operations at current milk prices.

This was brought out in evidence Friday at the hearing of the Board of Utilities Commissioners of a request from milk producers for an increase from $4.25 to $5 per 100 pounds in the price of milk.

Granting of this increase would boost milk prices in Edmonton to 21 cents a quart.

Evidence given by operators engaged in mixed farming disclosed that the dairy branch of their farms was subsidised by other farm revenues.

"These revenues are not available to the farmers who deal exclusively in dairy production."

Milk sales per capita in Edmonton have increased despite the fact that the dairy branch of their farms was subsidised by other farm revenues.

Many witnesses were unable to attend Friday's hearing. The hearing will be adjourned to Friday, March 15.

City May Hear Top Soprano

Kirsten Flagstad, world-famous Norwegian dramatic soprano, may sing in Edmonton Friday.

This was stated in Edmonton Friday by A. K. Ke, of Winnipeg, president of Celebrity Concerts (Canada) Ltd., which each year brings prominent North American musicians to Canada in the Celebrity Series.

Mr. Ke stated that "it is possible" that Madame Flagstad will be booked for a Canadian tour next winter with the Celebrity Series.

Kirsten Flagstad, formerly top soprano with the Metropolitan Opera Co., is considered by many to have the world's finest voice. She has been touring Europe and North America during the past four years, and recently sang to packed houses in Vancouver, Toronto, and Montreal.

Army Brass Due Sunday

Senior officers of the Canadian Army will arrive by air at Edmonton Sunday on the first leg of an extensive inspection tour of Western Command.

Headed by Adjutant-General of the Army, Maj.-Gen. E. G. Weeks, and vice chief of the general staff, Maj.-Gen. H. D. Graham, the party of 12 will spend two days here before leaving Tuesday for Fort Nelson, B.C.

On arrival, the group will inspect a guard of honor of 30 men from Western Command under Captain J. H. Campbell. They will be met at the airport by Maj.-Gen. H. S. Penhale, CMC, Western Command, and Col. E. C. Brown.

During the party's stay at Edmonton, they will confer with the governors of Western Command, and will carry out extensive inspection of army facilities in this area.

The two eastern generals will address the Edmonton United Service Institute at Prince of Wales armory Monday night.

Other members of the official party include Col. M. S. Dunn, director of administration at Ottawa, Col. A. G. Cherner, director of personnel, and Lieut.-Col. C. A. Park, director of military training, and Lieut.-Col. G. H. MacDonald, quartermaster-general representative.

4-year Jail Term For Edmonton Pair

District Man Gets 7 Years on Morals

Sentences ranging from nine months to seven years were imposed on six prisoners in supreme court Friday afternoon by Mr. Justice Royd McKelvie.

Jean Watson Triumphs In City Recital

Audience members didn't know it, but they saw a wonderful example of show-business nerve Friday night.

The sixth Celebrity Series concert in McMillan United Church last night, when Jean Watson, at the personal solicitation of New York City.

Miss Watson, who is one of the world's foremost contraltos, was suffering from a bad cold which necessitated penicillin injections during the past week.

Despite a sore throat that made a concert a difficult job at the best, there was little evidence that anything was wrong during Miss Watson's singing last night, beyond occasional onstage coughing or sneezing.

STOPS
Miss Watson sang a concert that had other contraltos in the world who have given a right arm to the cause.

Her feat was made possible because of her magnificent, warm, wonderful range, power, control, richness and clarity that has taken her from the small Ontario town in which she was born to the top of the international world.

There were offers from the cold of course. In a couple of songs the district contralto hit high notes, surely and quickly, and three or four numbers ended with a definiteness that was noticeable only because of the brilliancy of the rest of her singing.

She held back a little in some of the more forceful parts of the first two or three numbers, but that could only have been to preserve her voice. Certainly her lovely audience appreciated the six numbers she added to an already generous program.

She smiled when she told the audience she wanted to substitute one program number with "How Blue," Thos. Winter Wynn, which she said she thought would be a dramatic audience appreciation the six numbers she added to an already generous program.

One of the best numbers in the program was the aria "The Village Song" from Rossini's "The Barber of Seville," which gave a blue Watson full opportunity to show her magnificent contralto voice.

The audience applauded lustily after group of four German songs: "Dedication," "Brahms," "The Huntsman," Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Loewer's "Edward," which best showed her ability with the dramatic.

Miss Watson sang a concert that had other contraltos in the world who have given a right arm to the cause.

Her feat was made possible because of her magnificent, warm, wonderful range, power, control, richness and clarity that has taken her from the small Ontario town in which she was born to the top of the international world.

There were offers from the cold of course. In a couple of songs the district contralto hit high notes, surely and quickly, and three or four numbers ended with a definiteness that was noticeable only because of the brilliancy of the rest of her singing.

She held back a little in some of the more forceful parts of the first two or three numbers, but that could only have been to preserve her voice. Certainly her lovely audience appreciated the six numbers she added to an already generous program.

She smiled when she told the audience she wanted to substitute one program number with "How Blue," Thos. Winter Wynn, which she said she thought would be a dramatic audience appreciation the six numbers she added to an already generous program.

One of the best numbers in the program was the aria "The Village Song" from Rossini's "The Barber of Seville," which gave a blue Watson full opportunity to show her magnificent contralto voice.

The audience applauded lustily after group of four German songs: "Dedication," "Brahms," "The Huntsman," Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Loewer's "Edward," which best showed her ability with the dramatic.

Biblical Background Basis of New Novel

By Barbara Abbott

THE ROBBER, by Bertram Brooker, Toronto, Wm. Collins Sons and Co. 307 pages, $3.

This is a new conception. It is an attempt, a brave attempt, at solving some of the many mysteries surrounding the so famous yet so unexplained characters who figure in the Christian story.

In The Robber, the author attempts to solve the mystery of the man who was crucified with Jesus.

Brooker's theory is that the man who was crucified with Jesus was a Jew named Judas Iscariot.

Howard Spring Still Delights

By Harold Delany

THAT NO ARTIST, by Howard Spring, Delany, Collins, Toronto, 376 pages, $3.50.

Master novelist Howard Spring has once more employed the first person style of narrative as he did so successfully in My Son, My Son and Jane and The Spur, to produce another outstanding volume.

There is no Armour in the rich and warm atmosphere of a half-century in the life of Ted Pontre, as he looks back over the years.

That is the overall flashback technique, a successful portrait painter recording his life from a happy childhood in Manchester to a semi-confined life in England.

But the same technique is employed in even more detailed form by the narrator as important developments occur in the book.

REGINA, Feb. 19.—(CP)—People of Saskatchewan soon will be able to take a friend up to their room and offer him a drink of liquor—legally.

That is the plan of the Saskatchewan Liquor Control Board, which is to amend the liquor laws to allow a friend to be taken to a room and offered a drink of liquor—legally.

Part of the bill provides for the repeal of that section of the liquor laws which states: "No person shall keep, or have, or consume liquor in any room in a hotel, other than a bona fide guest of the hotel."

It's much too early to start digging a grave for radio in the opinion of Frank M. Folsom, the new president of the Radio Corporation of America.

Winter Carnival Fun In Store For Everyone From February 19 to 26

For the past three years, Edmonton sports enthusiasts have fostered a week-long Winter Carnival.

This year, a bigger and better carnival is in store for young and old, from Feb. 19 to Feb. 26.

For a change, winter will be time for fun . . . for activity . . . for comradeship and sports competition. Jack Frost's dour countenance can't spoil the good time for everyone.

Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce, in previous years, has been the mainstay of the whole proceedings, organizing and sponsoring the event.

But to ensure wider civic interest and participation, the Junior Chamber instigated the formation of a "steering" committee composed of representatives from different organizations.

This full week of winter fun . . . from Feb. 19 to Feb. 26, will be backed by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, the Athletic Council, the Recreation Commission, the Exhibition board and the Federation of Community Leagues.

Last year's carnival queen, Ruth Wilson, will reign during the week of fun. Her crown will be placed on the head of the new queen, chosen from these four girls, Feb. 26.

Crowning ceremony will be held at the Edmonton Arena.

Edmonton will don her gayest costumery for the fun fest and the variety of recreation offered during carnival week will please everyone.

General chairman of the carnival committee is Clarence Richards.
